This week our pupils painted on stones to create their own 'Covid the Cobra'. The concept came from our extremely talented Mrs. Raife, who has recently been featured in BBC London and the Romford Recorder. Click on the links below to find out more:

This week, year 1 have been learning all about the artist, Vincent Van Gogh. Year 1 explored his flower paintings and created their own spring scene. The children enjoyed using short brush strokes and blending a range of colours.

Soapy fun in Science

Pupils in 6B learnt how soap works. They carried out experiments with water, hand soap and ground pepper.

"In science, we found out that soap binds with oil in your hands, and when you rinse your hands, the soap carries away the germs with the water."

African Art

Our key worker children were learning about African animals. As part of their topic, they created an African savannah at sunset. They used colour mixing to create the gradual change of colour and black paper to create the silhouette.

Life back in school

Everything has changed, there are fewer people than before and we must keep to the 2-meter distance. Most of our friends are not here, and some are in other classes. I feel happy to back in school because the teachers can help with things that we don't understand and we can play with friends. It is also kind of sad that we have our own playground space and we can't play with other classes and also the teachers can't mingle.

In class, we have our own equipment and we can't share with anyone. There are around 10 children in each class. The lessons are a little bit easier than before. It is more creative because we have two art and two PE lessons a week. It's also a great time to know your classmates better in our own bubble.

Riddle time!

I have streets but no pavement,
I have cities but no buildings,
I have forests but no trees,
I have rivers yet no water.

What am I?
